Summary:

The East Bay Express interviewed the Victim [REDACTED] and printed a screen shot providing sensitive police information.

Follow-up:

According to the East Bay Express article, dated 15 Jun 16 "Badge of Dishonor" the victim met an officer when she was intoxicated; he made sure she got home safely and she named him "Superman". They exchanged phone numbers and began communicating. According to the article, this "Superman" was an Oakland Police Officer who provided the victim with classified information. The victim provided a screen shot of a text she was sent by "Superman" dated 5 Mar 16. The text said, "Stay off E14 from Fruitvale to 42 tonight. There's a UC operation." She understood this to mean there was an undercover prostitution sting working that night. He also ran out people for her and gave her other classified information.

When interviewed at different times by both Ofc. Webber and Ofc. Creed, the victim reiterated she did not want to press charges and did not want to cooperate in an investigation against "Superman" whom she refused to identify. The unknown "Superman" was later identified as OPD Ofc. Brian Bunton.

The victim had information in her phone but refused to allow officers to see it and indicated she'd erased all the information. A search warrant was written for her Facebook and Instagram accounts. Investigators were looking for evidence to prove Susp Bunton provided the victim information regarding classified operations and or other classified police information.

There were 76000+ pages of Facebook evidence and equally large amount of information from Instagram. I divided the search among investigators and searched for information regarding Susp Bunton. The data was very difficult to manipulate on our computers and had to be put in a format we could manipulate. On 27 Jul 16, the unit was able to look through the evidence.

14 Jun 16

Ofc. Webber and Ofc. Chavarria interviewed the victim about several officers and information from the East Bay Express article. The victim was reluctant to talk about Susp Bunton. She eventually admitted he was "Superman" and identified his CDL picture. See Ofc. Webber's supplemental report for details.

17 Jun 16

The victim was re-interviewed at CALICO by DA Inspector Tarranto and Mooreland. She was asked about all the known officers believed to have engaged in possible criminal activity. The victim described her encounter with "Superman" who she acknowledged was Susp Bunton. She said they started messaging and then met at a hotel.

On 5 Mar 16, they met at the Marriott Hotel on Hegenberger. The victim said an unknown male bought her room and she stayed there several days. She does not know the name the room was under. Susp Bunton came to the hotel after work. He worked the night shift. They talked and she orally copulated him.

According to the victim's phone dump, on 3 Mar 16 at 09:25 (GMT-8) following their motel encounter Susp Bunton sent her messages to be safe and offered her advice. The following is their messages:

Susp Bunton: "Stay off E14 from Fruitvale to 42 tonight. There's a UC operation."

Victim: "Dam lol" with two emoji faces.

Susp Bunton: "No you're not. Just giving you a heads up."

Victim: "Thank u daddy (emoji face w/ tongue) I appreciate it ion wanna go to jail lol."

There were no Vice/CEU operations on Saturday March 5th; however there could have been other violent suppression type operations done by _____'s, _____'s and/or Patrol. Those types of operations do not necessarily require an Operation Plan.

7 Mar 16 (23:15 GMT-8)

Susp. Bunton sent "You make all your $$$$."

8 Mar 16 (01:36 GMT-8)

Victim responds the next day with "Not as much as I wanted lol."

8 Mar 16 (11:19 GMT-8)

Susp Bunton sent "You need a better manger lol"

These conversations indicate Susp Bunton knew the victim was working as a prostitute. It should be noted the search warrant for the victim's Facebook and Instagram were written by Ofc. Webber in relation to RD# [REDACTED]. The phone dump was given to the investigative unit by IA with the permission of the victim.

Webber's Supplemental Report

13 June 2016

1400

I arrived at the PAB and met with Lt. Encinas. I then made a preservation request for the victim's Facebook page pending a search warrant.

Alameda County District Attorney Inspector Taranto advised me that he had a meeting scheduled with the victim at 1000 hours on 14 June 2016.

I called the victim and confirmed she was aware of the meeting. I said there were some things that I needed to clear up and asked if she could come to our department after her interview with the ALCO DA's office. She said yes.

A short time later the victim called back. She said that she had an appointment in Richmond with an unknown detective with an unknown number. She asked about the Contra Costa Deputy. I told her I was working that case. She said she did not want me to do anything with the case. She went on to say that she wanted me to not pursue the [REDACTED] case either. She told me to say that she did not know them. I told her that I could not do that. I advised her that I still needed to meet with her face to face. The victim asked what if the media got her again. She said the media was parked in front of her house.

The victim said that she "took it back for both of them." I told her that we could try to arrange for another place to meet. I ended the call.

14 June 2016

The victim got into the interview room. She was on the phone with an unknown female. She was complaining about the media.

She told the female that ALCO DA's questioned her. She complained about the police questioning her. She said we were doing too much and we needed to get over it. She said that she had 4 phones and was afraid. She told the female she was going to deny any other allegations that cropped up. She mentioned a sex tape, but it was unknown if she was talking about something hypothetical or something that actually happened. She said that she wanted to smoke. She went to exit the interview room.

We came into the interview room. I told her that she needed to hang up the phone. She was reluctant and said that she wanted her friend to listen to the interview. I told her that I did not know who was on the other end of the phone and she needed to hang up the phone.

The victim said she had an appointment with Richmond PD and had been contacted by Stockton PD. I called Richmond PD and advised Sgt. Johanson of the interview.

I asked the victim if she wanted an advocate. She said no.

I asked her to confirm [REDACTED] oral copulation with her when she was 17. She said she was in the stairs and then said that she wanted to take it back for both [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

I showed her images / maps of Lake Merritt. She did not point out any locations. I asked about her telling [REDACTED] when she was 18 that she was 17 when they had their first sexual encounter. I asked her why she told him.

She said that she was pissed off. She again said that she took it back and to not get [REDACTED] in trouble.

I asked her about where she had sex with [REDACTED]. I showed her a map near the Caldecott tunnel. She said somewhere in the area but she was not sure exactly where.

I asked her about [REDACTED]. She confirmed that she told him that she had children and denied having sex with him while he was on duty. I confirmed that she told him she was 18 when she told him she was 17 when they had sex. She said that she was drunk at the time.

I then showed her the CDI image of former [REDACTED]. I told her that I was willing to bet that this was the 3rd officer that knew she was 16 and was a good friend of her mother's.

She said "Dang" and called him a piece of shit. She drew a knife and signed the photo. I asked why he was a piece of shit. I asked what he did. He called him a stupid ho. I asked again what happened with [REDACTED]. She said he was disgusting. She said he was stupid. The victim continued to dodge my questions as to what occurred between her and [REDACTED]. She refused to disclose anything. She said that he knew that she was a minor. She said that she met him about 2 years ago in the spring and met him on Facebook.

She said that she was 16 at the time. He knew when they met that she was 16. She said that she started having sex with him in February 2015. I asked her how many times she had sex. She said that she did not want to have anything done.

I asked when in 2014 did she have sex with [REDACTED]. She looked at the photo and said that we were looking for her "motive".

She refused to cooperate. She said that she wanted to tell the media that she was no longer cooperating with the cops.

I reminded the victim of her speaking with the media and telling KPIX 5 that the police needed to be held accountable and that she was telling us one thing and the media another. The victim said she wanted it to go away.

I reminded her of the number of police officers she said had contact with her. I told her I wanted the list of officers. She said "my list?" She said she deleted it and then said she still had it. She picked up the phone and pulled up the notepad feature. I saw there was a list, but could not make out the names. She said that she just deleted 5 of the names. I told her to stop deleting names.

I told her I was trying to find out which officers were in department that spoke with her. I explained that I needed to figure out who the officers were. The victim once again picked up her phone and said she was deleting the names.

The victim continued to refuse to provide the list of names.

I then brought up the East Bay Express article. I showed her the article and confirmed she provided the screen shots to them. I talked to her about the text screen shots. I talked to her about the release of UC operation information. She said that it was harmless. I countered that putting officers' lives in danger was not harmless. The victim then answered the phone to talk to a reporter. [REDACTED] from Telemundo. I told her to hang up the phone.

I then showed her the picture of [REDACTED]. She said "that piece of shit that old man". I told her that the media release indicated that she said he solicited her when she was 17, but did not have sex with him until she was 18. She said she did not remember what age she told him she was when they met. I then read the article to her. I had her sign on [REDACTED] photo.

I spoke to her about the officer that told her to deny. I showed her the CDI photo of Officer Bunton. She said it was not Bunton. The victim refused to face me. I asked again who it was. The victim said that she was not telling. I told the victim that she was letting a felon stay on my department.

I asked her about the leaking of UC operation information. The victim said it was Superman and identified Bunton. She then retracted that it was him.

I asked her about [REDACTED]. The victim said she met her on Facebook about a year ago. I told her the article said that the victim told [REDACTED] wife that she was underage and having sex. The victim said that [REDACTED] did not know the victim was underage.

I spoke with the victim about [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. She denied having sex with them while she was underage and denied having underage sex with [REDACTED]. She said she had sex with [REDACTED] when she was 18.

The victim said that she wanted me to tell the media she did not have sex with anybody. She picked up Bunton's photo from the table and asked "Is Superman in trouble?" I said he could be since he was leaking operation information.

I asked about criminal history being shared. She said that was [REDACTED]. I asked who else. She said another department and she did not want to talk about it.

At about 1327 hours on the interview recording I asked if she had sex with the officers to get protection. She said "well that's how I sleep with them". I asked if the police expressly told her to "put out" (have sex) in order to get protection from them. She said no.

I asked how many phones she had. She said 4 and not all of them were under her name. She refused to give me the numbers.

I told her about the texts being provided to the media yet she did not provide Internal Affairs or the Special Victims Section with the text messages. I asked why. She said the media asked for them. I asked what she did with Superman. She admitted to sex and denied having sex with Bunton while on duty. She then said she did not want to talk about it.

I asked about [REDACTED] providing criminal records to her. She said that she asked for her dad's name and he ran her friend out on his own. I asked why. She said that he told her that she was 5150'd a lot. She was showed [REDACTED] report. He called [REDACTED] a turd and showed her his history. [REDACTED] was deceased.

I then told the victim about the article saying that she had sex with multiple officers while they were on duty both Oakland PD and other agencies. The victim denied the allegations. She said she did not know which officers they would be talking about.

I asked about the 3rd officer besides "[REDACTED]" and "Superman" who leaked information to her. She said he was in a different city. She would not release his name. She said fuck the officers when brought up the officer safety issue.

I asked her about the media saying [REDACTED] knew about her having underage sex with the police. The victim said the media was exaggerating. She said that she did not think that [REDACTED] knew. She said that she told [REDACTED] that she was dating an officer. She denied telling [REDACTED] that she was having sex with police while on duty.

She said [REDACTED] asked about her being a dispatcher. The victim said she was dating officers and that she happened to be 17 at the time but she said she did not disclose that she was having sex with the officers.

The victim believed [REDACTED] wife did not know how old she was. The victim confirmed that she met [REDACTED] on Facebook. She added [REDACTED] then messaged her. She said that they talked about diet plans. She said she did not tell [REDACTED] which officers she was dating and all correspondence was on Facebook.

I asked about the list again. She said that she did not want to provide it. The victim refused to let us extract data from her phone. She said that she did not want to be labeled a snitch. The victim said she did not believe we were trying to help.

I then spoke with her about [REDACTED]. I asked her about how many times did she have sex with [REDACTED]. Again the victim started deleting names from the phone in front of me. I told her to stop. The victim refused to allow us to extract information from the phone again.

I reminded the victim she refused to give me further information in the first interview. I asked the victim why she released information to media. The victim could not offer an explanation why. The victim asked why [REDACTED] was on leave. I told her because she released the information, text, to media.

We asked again for the list. The victim again refused.

At about 1400, during the break the victim got back on the phone. It appeared that nobody answered. Then it looked like she made a 2nd call. It appeared that she was talking to the female who was on the phone when we started the interview. She said that I was "hella mad".

She said that she did fuck with them, most likely referring to myself and Officer Chavarria, but they (Officer Chavarria and myself) wanted to pull more names from me' (she said that in Spanish). She mentioned Superman and that she did not want to snitch.

She said "you know how the police could run names", referring to the providing criminal history to her. She told the other female on the phone that we did not have all the ones that had sex with her. She said that she felt bad because she was not antr cop. I came back into the room. She said that Mr. Angry was back. She said that she had to call her back. We asked who she was talking with. She said it was a friend named [REDACTED].

We asked for the list again and she refused to give the list. She said that she did not need to get officers in trouble.

She offered to let me scroll through the text message string with [REDACTED]. She let me video the phone. However all the messages were from 2016.

Officer Chavarria asked about [REDACTED] and why the victim hated him. She said that she stopped talking with him about 6 months prior. She continued to deflect. We asked if he cheated on her. She was either 16 or 17 when he did.

She said that he saw someone try to rape her through a webcam. He saw the person. She Skyped him. The victim said that she was locked in a room by an unknown male who was not aware she had more than one phone. The unknown male was 40. She had met the male by unknown (refused) means. She said that the male was still outstanding. She said the male was a family member but would not disclose.

[REDACTED] saw the male on top of her and her fighting the male. She would not tell us where the event took place. The victim said that [REDACTED] would not save her. She said that she did not want to talk about it.

We asked again about the relationship with [REDACTED]. She said that she did not want to talk about it. She said that she was in a boyfriend/girlfriend relationship for a couple months ago. About 2 years ago Chavarria asked what kind of physical relationship she had [REDACTED]. The victim continued to deflect.

Chavarria asked about Superman. The victim said that he was one of OPD's finest. She said that she met with him on February 2016. She was asked if he was the one who told her to deny. She said it was not Superman.

The victim said that the man who told her to deny was not 'Superman' / Officer Bunton but would not tell us who he was.

The victim continued to refuse to let us have the list of names of the police officers. We took another break. The victim said that she still wanted to do the Richmond PD interview.

The victim then left the interview room to ask for a lighter and came back in.

I came back into the interview room. I told her that I need the list of names. The victim continued to refuse to provide the list of officers to me despite my advising her of the potential for other victims being exploited by the police officers.

The victim did disclose to me at about 1502 hours that she had turned her first "trick" when she was 12.

We went to transport the victim to Richmond. I activated my PDRD prior to leaving the interview room. The victim had been asking to smoke a cigarette. When she got to the sally port I told her she could smoke believing she was going to smoke a cigarette. Instead she pulled out marijuana blunt and started to light it. I told her to stop and had her get in the unmarked police car 1633.

We transported the victim to Richmond. The victim confirmed with me during the transport that she wanted no further action taken by the department. She continued to refuse to provide information to me in regards to the other officers.

We arrived at Richmond PD. We met briefly with Richmond IAD and then returned to the PAB.
